

Ohio State's Brazil Gateway

MASTER CLASS

AND GRAD PROGRAM INFO

Topic: Current issues in logistics/supply chain management.

You're Invited! Ohio State's Brazil Gateway is hosting Walter Zinn from Ohio State's Fisher College of Business on August 16, 2018. Join us at this exclusive event in São Paulo to participate in a master class on current issues in logistics/supply chain management. This event is also an excellent opportunity to learn more about Fisher's MBA or specialized graduate degrees.

DATE: Thursday, August 16, 2018

TIME: Starts at 6:45 p.m.

WHERE: Brazil Gateway & Visagio's Office

Av. Ibirapuera, 2120, #164 – Moema,
São Paulo - SP 04028-001 Brazil

HIGHLIGHTS:

- Learn about Fisher's MBA & graduate programs
- Participate in a dynamic masterclass
- Ask your questions during a Q&A
- Start networking & enjoy light hors-d'oeuvres
- 1-on-1 meetings with the Brazil Gateway

RSVP for August 16th

Email Jane Aparecido to RSVP or ask questions about the São Paulo event.

Jane Aparecido

aparecido.1@osu.edu

Walter Zinn

Associate Dean for Graduate
Students & Programs,
Professor of Logistics
Fisher College of Business
The Ohio State University

Professor Walter Zinn serves as associate dean for graduate students and programs and a professor of logistics at Fisher College of Business. His research interests focus on the impact of customer service policies on the determination of safety stocks and addresses issues such as the effects of inventory centralization and sales forecasting on safety stocks, logistics partnerships, and consumer reactions to stockouts. He serves as co-editor of the Journal of Business Logistics, which was founded at The Ohio State University.

THE OHIO STATE UNIVERSITY
FISHER COLLEGE OF BUSINESS