MHRM Enhancements

Ohio State's Fisher College of Business continually reviews and enhances our graduate programs to ensure you are ready for the future of business with a best-in-class curriculum.

- Refreshed curriculum to reflect changes in HR
- Now an 18 month, 3 semester program
- Streamlined requirements to 39 credit hours
- Elective offerings vary from semester to semester, but some options may include a Coaching Series, Negotiations, Diversity & Inclusion, and Leadership Effectiveness through Applied Projects (LEAP).

*The Contemporary Topics in HR & Professional Development course (1 credit hour each semester) meets one day a week before evening classes during the 5 – 6 p.m. timeframe.

Practicum (Internship or Tutorial) vs. Thesis

Most MHRM students pursue the practicum option with a summer internship or tutorial in a current role. Students looking to gain research experience can instead choose the thesis option. No matter which path you take, the coursework in Contemporary Topics in HR & Professional Development is tailored to your practicum or thesis selection.
